SCALECONF COLOMBIA

Created by a team of active members of the software community in Colombia, ScaleConf Colombia is a pioneering tech conference on scalability, DevOps and modern software tools and practices in the region. Its objective is to level up the community's knowledge by bringing great speakers from the teams all around the world that are paving the way for tomorrow's apps and services, to be ready for a global scale.

OUR AUDIENCE

ScaleConf is appealing to a wide audience. We are language-agnostic, and we welcome people from many backgrounds and experience levels. The talks we host revolve around modern tools and practices, DevOps, scalable architecture, battle stories, distributed systems, "pro tips", among other closely-related topics, so anyone from front-end developers to operations engineers can take something away from the conference.

The buzz has already started, and the leaders of DevOps groups all across Latin America are on board too. Who knows? Attendees may also be arriving from Mexico, Costa Rica, Argentina, Ecuador or Peru!
